Re: Visit to Bishop's Stortford College

Dear Parent,

As part of the Bishop's Stortford College Literary Festival, your child's English class has been invited to a talk on Thursday 9th February. Students will be listening to the author Simon James Green, who will be talking about where he gets his inspiration from and his own school days. This will be instead of their usual English lesson.

Students will leave St Mary's after lunch to walk to the College and return to school by around 3.20.

This is a valuable opportunity for your child to meet a real author, and it should be a very enjoyable event.

Please confirm your child's participation by returning the slip below by Monday 6th February, to Mrs Frino in the library. Alternatively, email your consent for the attention of Mrs Frino, via the school info@stmarys.net address, clearly stating your child's name and any medical requirements. Please make us aware if your child needs to catch transport from school promptly, as they may need to leave the event early.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Adams and Mrs Frino

Teacher of English and Learning Resource Manager
